Equitation Classes

Judging of hunter seat equitation at the College Royal is based on the following criteria:

- The rider's position should be efficient, effective, balanced, and supple.
- It should not be exaggerated or rigid and should allow for aids to be discrete.
- Riders' stirrups should be of appropriate length. Stirrups should meet the rider's anklebone when the leg is fully extended, and the rider is sitting squarely in the saddle. Stirrup irons should rest on the ball of the rider's foot.
- The rider's body position should be upright, and the seat should be centered in the deepest part of the saddle.
- Legs should be in contact with horse with a slight bend in the knee and heel inclined downward.
- Reins should be tight enough to ensure control and hands should be held above the horse's withers.
- Rider will have a "deep seat" at all gaits, as opposed to the half seat shown in the traditional Hunter under saddle classes.

Riders will be asked to complete a minimum of two tests per division to assist in judging. POG Green Division can only be asked to halt and sitting trot.

The under-saddle tests are as follows:

- Halt (halt execution will be judged on the rider not the horses halting ability)
- Sitting trot
- Extended and/or collected trot
- Trot without stirrups posting (stirrup leathers may not be crossed)
- Trot without stirrups sitting (stirrup leathers may not be crossed)
- Two-point at the walk or trot or canter
